

TRIXIE

Health & Hygiene

Our new VET series contains items that veterinarians recommend or sell themselves. They help pet owners to deal with difficult times in the life of their pet. As an addition to medical treatment, e.g. in cases of paw injuries or after a castration, wound healing can be aided and the patient is helped to recover faster. The series also offers help for age-related or illness-related incontinence.

In addition to that, we have added suckling bottles and suckling aids to our product range for the quick feeding of new-born animals.

Also the diets of dogs and cats play an important role for their well-being. In some cases, the daily feed ration alone is not sufficient to supply what they need. Pet feed supplements can optimize the pets' diet by adding individual nutrients and thus improving the pets' quality of life. On the last few pages of this brochure, we present a small selection from our extensive feed supplement range in some detail.
